Telling Others About Who Jesus Is

John 1:35 - 51

Five men were invited by Jesus where He shared with them about Himself and the purpose of His mission. Andrew and John were disciples of John the Baptist whom they had learned about the coming Lamb of God who would take away the sin of man and so when John the Baptist pointed to them that Jesus was the Lamb of God, they followed Him. Andrew shared about what he had discovered in the person of Jesus, who was the promised Messiah, to his brother Peter and he followed Jesus based on Andrew's testimony. Philip was invited by Jesus personally to follow Him and he went to find Nathanael, but Nathanael had to be convinced before he too agreed to follow Jesus.

Each of these men met Jesus at different situations, at different phases of their lives and was challenged to make a decision to follow Jesus. These five men believed in what Jesus had told them and were convinced that He was their long-awaited Messiah and they followed Jesus till the end of His life. The five disciples continued to live on the legacy of Jesus Christ after His ascension.

How did you come to know Jesus? And have you been telling others about who Jesus is? Do you follow His teachings? It is a good practice to pause and reflect on your faith journey with Jesus occasionally; such contemplation will renew your perspective and recharge your passion for Jesus to follow and serve Him for the glory of God.
